Psychology is the study of human behaviour and the mental processes. It deals with human beings, their thoughts, emotions and actions. So Psychology encompasses almost everything related to human beings. It has different specialized fields like cognitive, clinical, industrial, health, experimental, developmental etc. Psychology is associated with various branches of social science and science like physiology, education, sociology, gender issues, statistics etc. Thus, Psychology, indeed, has a multi-disciplinary approach. Hence, the subject provides ample opportunities to the students to gain detailed knowledge regarding various concepts.

The General course (for Honours students) has been framed in such a way that they can have in depth knowledge about two different fields of Psychology in the two semesters. This would also help them in understanding of their core course. The general course includes fields that are mostly application based.
